The PRAYER FOR TODAY FROM The Upper Room

An highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness .... the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein. (Isaiah 35 8)

PRAYER: O Lord, we thank Thee that through faith in Thy Son we become free — free from sin, free to travel that long way with Thee and with our fellow Christians to all points beyond In Christ's name we offer our joyful thanks. Amen

HE MUST BE A FARMER

(Edward Petry, Advertising Agency Man.)

A FARMER is a paradox — he is an overalled executive with his home his office, a scientist using fertilizer attachments, a purchasing agent in a straw hat, a personnel director with grease under his fingernails, a dietitian with a passion for alfalfa, aminos, and antibiotics, a production expert faced with a surplus and a manager battling a price-cost squeeze.

He manages more capital than most of the business men in town.

He likes sunshine, good food, State Fairs, dinner at noon, auctions, his neighbors, his shirt collar unbuttoned, and above all, a good soaking rain in August.

He is not much for drouths, ditches, throughways, experts, weeds, the eight-hour day, grasshoppers or helping with housework.

Farmers are found in fields — plowing up, seeding down, rotating from, planning to, fertilizing with, spraying for and harvesting. Wives help them, little boys follow them, the Agriculture Department confuses them, city relatives visit them, salesmen detain them and wait for them, weather can delay them, but it takes Heaven to stop them.

A farmer is both Faith and Fatalist — he must have faith to continually meet the challenges of his capacities amid an ever-present possibility that an Act of God (a late spring, an early frost, tornado, flood, drouth) can bring his business to a standstill.

You can reduce his acreage but you cannot restrain his ambition.

GIVE HIM A CHANCE

THE city of Glendale, Arizona, not too much larger than ours, has adopted a remodeled social studies curriculum for the high school, including a unit on controversial issues. It has been approved by the Board after consultation with teachers.

A similar program has been discussed for Nebraska City according to a conversation I recently had with Pete Neidl, a thoughtful instructor with whom I've had much to do with respect to the annual Civics Award, a News-Press feature for the past 40 years.

Mr Neidl may be interested in the policy outlined with respect to the Glendale school's rejuvenated program.

1. The student shall have the right to study a controversial issue which has political, economic or social significance.

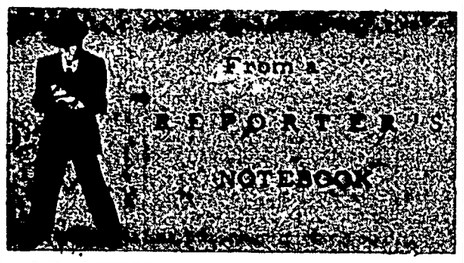

2. The right to have free access to relevant information.

3. The right to study under competent instruction in an atmosphere free from bias and prejudice

4. The right to form and express his own opinion on controversial issues without jeopardizing relations with teacher or the school

In all remodeled social studies courses, emphasis has been placed upon the American citizen in his geographical setting, cultural heritage and economic and political institutions in relation to the world at large.

The student will have a chance to study Communism, Socialism and Fascism, in order to teach him the value of the republican form of government and the general democratic processes.—J H S

JUST THINGS:

The average Hinky Dinky store manager, says the News of the store chain, earns $8,538 per year The typical Hinky Dinky manager is 38 years old, has been in the food business 16 years, employed by his company 12½ years and served as manager eight years The First National bank of Syracuse attained $3 000,000 in deposits for the first time in July, says Otto Wellensiek, the president Brickwork has started on the new home for Nebraska City Eagles .. Hinky Dinky is selling gasoline at one of its Omaha stores . Lonnie Martin is operating the city's new street sweeper which is working very well, says Commissioner Rogers.

IT SAYS here in a blurb from the U.S. Department of Labor that the final year in high school may be worth $46,000

Government statistics — and they have 'em on almost every subject — reveal that the high school graduate earns $46,364 more than the lad who drops out before his senior year.

So, with school start just around the corner, the prospective drop-out should take a second look before he decides to stay on the summer job after school starts.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va — From the heart of the birth of a nation, residents — and the late John D Rockefeller, Jr — have joined to show tourist life in the 18th century

Here, where tobacco, lumber and textiles are principal industries, $70 million has been expended to landmarks

-:- -:- -:-

Once called Middle Plantation, the community of almost 7,000 works daily to promote tourism

-:- -:- -:-

As you enter Williamsburg, you will see two signs along highways "Colonial Williamsburg" and "Williamsburg"

Colonial Williamsburg is a part of the town, but is as separate as John Brown's Cave to Nebraska City It is an incorporated industry

The organization started in 1926 when Mr Rockefeller sought to revitalize history

A Board of Trustees — Winthrop Rockefeller is chairman — runs the tourist attraction, which, by the way, draws an estimated one million people each year

-:- -:- -:-

We stopped at Waldorf, Md, for a meal and our daughters wanted to know what was meant by a sign over the door which read, "Whites Only"

It semed strange to them, but they and we accepted it and were enjoying our meal until a family was seated next to us with a dog

The animal was quickly removed from the dining area

-:- -:- -:-

We are visiting Mr and Mrs Ray Carrig here at Williamsburg Formerly of Columbus, Nebr, the Carrigs and Beaumonts first met umpteen years ago at Alameda, Calif, and then met again at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii

After two telephone calls, one to the Carrigs' old address, three to Nebraska and one to Washington, D C, we finally located them Many gracious thanks to Rep Ralph Beermann for his assistance It turned out our friends had only moved 15 miles from the address we had My friend, Ray, is in the Navy He will retire in two years at 36 years of age and at a fat retirement pay

He'll have it "made" and hopes to return to his old home area with his lovely wife, three daughters and a son, to work in the community and become active just like ole' sea hoss George Rivett

Officer doesn't condone stooting

LINCOLN (UPI) — Lancaster County Attorney Paul Douglas said Sunday he does not condone the Saturday night shooting of a 41-year-old ex-convict by a Lincoln liquor store co-owner

Douglas' statement followed a shooting incident involving co owner George Christopulos and would-be robber Joe J Cline

Christopulos shot and killed the ex-convict as he was leaving the liquor store which he had held up

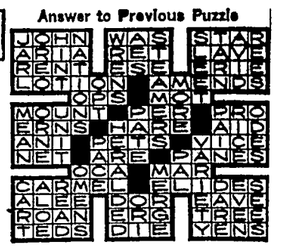

Cline slumped to the floor just as police Sgt Orley Barker ran through the door Barker had seen Christopulos level the gun at Cline from the street Christopulos told Douglas he did not see the officer and did not believe Cline was going to stop

Christopulos said the man's actions led him to believe he was carrying a gun Officers later found Cline was not carrying a weapon, though he had used a 45 caliber pistol in three earlier holdups

It is estimated that 14 per cent of all American families own parakeets
