Slogan needed for June event

Chamber officials Thursday asked Nebraska Citians to suggest a slogan for the three-day celebration June 6-7-8

Chamber Manager Gary Blakeman said suggestions for the city-wide celebration include a golf tournament, boat rides on the Missouri river, square dancing, parades, float prizes, speakers, picnic, dance, fireworks, ski show, dedication of the new river terminal and American Meter company bond burning

Les Carr is general chairman Committee is Dr A O Gigstad, Chamber president, Ed Hundley and Blakeman

Carr will name chairmen for each of the three days and committee chairmen for the various events

"Plans are still tentative" Blakeman said, "but we're going to make this celebration big"

Chamber officials are hopeful of more than one parade consisting of 15 or more bands

The help of Nebraska Citians is needed

Chamber officials want suggestions on what events should be scheduled and a slogan for the event

The work sheet for the event will be posted on the bulletin board in the Chamber office

California, Rio Grand chilled

By United Press International

The century's worst cold wave smashed south today, shattering temperature records, closing schools and resulting in the deaths of more than 140 persons.

Damage to grazing crops across the Southland ran into thousands of dollars and Florida citrus growers girded for another cold seige

Southern California crop damage ran into the millions Citrus and vegetable crops in the lush Rio Grande Valley were imperiled by the latest onslaught of polar cold

Violent snow storms off the Great Lakes dumped 11 inches of fresh snow in Pennsylvania and New York West Virginia was hit with 10 inches of new snow and lesser amounts fell elsewhere Roads were treacherous from Michigan to the middle Atlantic states and drivers were warned to stay home

Many Schools Close

Thousands of schools were closed by drifting snow and cold from Pennsylvania to Iowa.

Central America trip for Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House announced today President Kennedy will meet at San Jose, Costa Rica, March 18-20 with the chief executives of six Central American countries

Kennedy will confer for three days with the presidents of Costa Rica, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Panama

The purpose of the meeting, according to the White House, will be to review problems and progress under the U.S Alliance for Progress program, with particular attention to a movement toward economic integration of Central America

Panama, although not a member of the Organization of American States, has been invited to participate in the integration movement The program envisions creation of a Central American Common Market by 1965.

Optimists set banquet April 2

Jack Brawner and Dr John Wilmes, co-chairmen of the Optimist All-Sports banquet, said Thursday noon that April 2 has been set for the banquet this year Oscar Smith is in charge of the program

Peter J Neidl, guest speaker, one of four Nebraska high school teachers who helped write a guide about Communism for secondary school teachers, reviewed the book for the Optimist Club today.

After seeing the book in print, Neidl told the group, the foursome would like to improve on the book He said the teachers believe so much in what they wrote, they are willing to teach the high school students the facts and then let them decide for themselves about Communism

The four basic differences referred to in the book are economics, social life, religion and government

Dr A O Gigstad spoke briefly to the group about the plans of the Local Housing Authority and the February 5 special election when Nebraska Citians will vote on senior citizens housing

Her daughter, Charlotte Dusinberre, said the 72-year-old former Ziegfeld Follies dancer had been in a coma since falling at their home

By Ivan D.E.B.

If your street has not been cleared of snow up to the curbs, then it may be because the city's snow removal equipment couldn't get through the street because of parked cars.

City Street Commissioner Ervin Rogers said cars will be towed away in certain areas when the snow removal is in full swing.

But it appears that in the residential areas, if you don't get your car off the street, then expect it to be buried in a fence of snow and result in a zig-zag path through the street.

State Highway crews handle snow removal in a similar manner. They just bury cars that are parked along the highways.

I couldn't help but laugh and really expect to hear a rib from Jack "Rip" Andersen, former N-P sports man who is now with the Lincoln Journal-Star, after attending the "closed" meeting of news people at Lincoln where Senator Carpenter was the speaker

I remember quite clearly when sports writers organized a club and elected officers, but withheld the eleotion until a "news release" was sent out Jack took quite a kidding because news people were handing out "releases," so he probably will give me the blazes soon.

Mason L Colbert, that thoughtful gentleman who displays two Boxer dog decorations on the fenders of his car, has taken heed to the cold weather and has put sweaters on both animals

Understand also that Mason's train that operates on the top of his car rack may be discontinued without any objection from the city or Chamber of Commerce. Maybe Mason should check with the Ben Ryan Southern line to see how Mr Ryan can continue operation of his rail service at Leftwich River Terminals with limited passenger use

Millions put under supports

ON THE FARM FRONT

(Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department reported farmers had put 135,348,861 bushels of 1962-crop corn under price support loans through December. This compares to 82,855,089 bushels of 1961-crop oorn put under support through December, 1961, and to the 152,142,840 bushels of 1960-crop corn put under support through December, 1960

Through December, farmers had put 216,713,098 bushels of 1962-crop wheat under support. This compares to 247,441,589 bushels of 1961 wheat put under support through December, 1961, and to 71,475,487 bushels of 1960 wheat put under support through December, 1960.

Soybeans under support through December totaled 48,633,159 bushels The bulk of the soybeans under support were produced in Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, Indiana, Arkansas, and Ohio.

A survey of grasshopper infestation shows that smaller numbers may be expected in western and midwestern states in 1963 than last year Grasshoppers were found on 7.8 million acres of rangeland in a 16-state survey. A year earlier, 13 5 million acres were infested

The government's weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin said recurring surges of arctic air continued to drop temperatures well below normal in most parts of the country during the past week.

Light snow accompanying the southward spread of cold air helped generally adequate snow cover for winter grain crops throughout the northern Great Plains and the more northern sections of the central Plains region. Drifting and soil blowing continued to be a problem in eastern Wyoming and western South Dakota and Nebraska

Extremely cold weather was especially bad on small grains in the southern portion of the central Great Plains, Oklahoma, and Texas, where snow cover varied from light to none Winterkill in these areas, however, is expected to be confined largely to winter oat and barley acreages.

Lack of snow cover also resulted in light damage to winter barley acreages in the far Northwest Cold, dry weather discolored fall-seeded grains in California and held growth to a minimum throughout the Southwest
