BRIDGE FUND

NEBRASKA City as a municipality is in the process of installing a new bridge over South Table Creek on North First street. The aged bridge being replaced collapsed under the weight of a big truck. The old bridge was tired and rusted out to the point where it could not carry another load.

The city has been trying to get bids on a new bridge for North Sixth street. This aged span is a one-way affair and now seems to be unsafe for school buses. It is going to cost a lot of money to replace this bridge.

Last year the South Thirteenth street bridge was repaired — the bill being paid by the County of Otoe. It was a generous gesture, indeed, and the City Commissioners appreciated the help. They had gone to the Court House hat in hand to get help and they received more than they expected.

Now the City is at the point of more bridge repairs. A special bridge tax is being paid to the city by the taxpayers. These same taxpayers pay a goodly share of the county bridge tax, but none of this money comes back to the city except as a voluntary contribution by the county board.

A small percentage of the county bridge tax really should be allocated to the city just as gasoline tax money is allocated to the city by the county. Over a period of years the city could build up a bridge fund so that when repairs are needed — and they will be needed in the future — the city will have something in its municipal pocket with which to pay the bill.

ARE YOU TIRED?

IF you are tired all of the time, you may just be bored, according to Dr. Harry J. Johnson in the March Reader's Digest.

Here's the way Doctor Johnson advises staying wide-awake:

Examine your daily routine to see just how you spend your time. Then list the things you'd like to do but never get around to. Do you really want to do these things? Find out where your interests lie and ask yourself how you can develop them.

Avoid loneliness. Many chronically tired persons live too much by themselves, says Dr. Johnson. A corollary suggestion is to take an interest in other people. While your attentions turn outward, you'll find it easier to forget yourself and your "tired feeling."

Give yourself something to look forward to. If you're in a routine job, plan something interesting for the evening. Remember that anticipation is one of life's great pleasures.

Okay, now, let's get over feeling tired. It's all in your mind, you know!

Reporter's notebook

YOU HAVE BEEN READING ABOUT CABLE TV in The News-Press since two applications for franchises have been filed with the City Commission.

I have a list of the systems in operation in 20 states. Nebraska has 10 systems either in operation or where franchises have been issued.

The usual franchise fee for CATV is 2 per cent of the gross revenue or $1 per year per service connection. None of the systems on the list I have pays more than that.

\+ + + + +

AT present, CATV is wired into two million of the nation's 53.8 million TV-viewing homes. Business Week says the most enthusiastic of the CATV people expect to reach 45 million homes in the next 10 years, while the more cautious among them think nine million is more like it.

At present 852 CATV systems are in development and 1,240 franchises are pending, says the magazine. But if Nebraska City is any indication, the number is increasing by the minute.

\+ + + + +

ORIGINALLY CATV supplemented broadcasting by bringing TV to small, distant communities where signals would not reach. Then it moved into the one and two-station towns and discovered people would pay for more channels. Now it is moving into the big population centers where if it can crack the rich TV market it will grow fat.

\+ + + + +

AFTER World War II the FCC hunted around until it found individuals and companies willing to stick out their necks and get into television. Licenses in those days were cheap; they could be had almost for the asking. Now a TV license is worth millions.

Some people sitting on the sidelines now believe that is the reason for the Scramble for CATV franchises. Someday in the not too far distant future these franchises may be worth a lot of money, say some observers. In fact, one Nebraska franchise has changed hands several times already although not a foot of wire has been strung.

\+ + + + +

THE Johnson television and broadcastings interests — President Johnson, that is — have bought a half interest in Capital Cable Co. in Austin, Texas. Every group broadcaster, says Business Week, has gone into CATV in varying degrees. They don't know what is coming but they want to be in on it when it arrives.

\+ + + + +

CABLE television has possibilities other than merely improving TV signals in the home. Most systems have non-TV programming to a limited extent, such as weather reports. Bingo games have been run by cable TV and a New York system carries educational programs produced in the local schools.

There is a possibility that facsimile newspapers may someday be transmitted to the home. Both AP and UPI have formed subsidiaries which would feed news to Cable TV via home screens.

The buck Ends here . . . .

By Ivan D. E. Beaumont

Know the first place Batman goes in the morning?

The Batroom.

\+ + + + +

And then there was the rabbit who went to the dentist to have a tooth pulled.

Gas? Doc Phillips asked.

"Nope, I'm an Ether Bunny."

Ben Gobie, the Lincoln insurance executive who spoke at the juvenile symposium at Senior High, commended the PTA council for the type of program.

And rightly so. . .but there were many empty seats in the new spacious auditorium.

A lot of what he had to say boiled down to one brutal fact — Children who attend church and church schools generally aren't the ones who get into trouble. An interesting point in his talk was that the middle and upper class of the younger set across the nation are giving lawmen the trouble.

He made several points, some that perhaps didn't seem quite right, but he concluded that he wasn't trying to win a popularity contest.

\+ + + + +

Now that the new license plates are pretty well circulated, we all anxiously await the Lions club auto license directory — to see who in the heck that was in that car.

Up to January 1, it was pretty easy to wave "hi" to another home motorist because if you didn't recognize his car, the license number was helpful.

Not so anymore. Now there are six or seven sets of numbers.

\+ + + + +

Same thing applies to the telephone numbers. . . . .Used to be able to call several places without looking up the numbers in the telephone book.

Whats the number at the fire station? Police? Sheriff? Family doctor?

Mort Porter's Arbor Day program sounds like a jim dandy of an idea.

The tree program could never be more appropriate than for the home of Arbor Day to start the replanting of trees lost to Dutch Elm disease.

THREE ELIGIBLE

SHENANDOAH — A worthy Democrat will be selected from among Karl B. Bredensteiner, D. B. Mullins and Dean H. Naven, all eligible for the $8,861 postmastership following civil service examination. Joseph O. Howard, acting postmaster, didn't make the cut.

THE ALMANAC

By United Press International

Today is Friday, Feb. 25, the 56th day of 1966 with 309 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening star is Jupiter.

World famous Italian tenor Enrico Caruso was born on this day in 1873.

On this day in history:

In 1804, a group of congressmen unanimously nominated Thomas Jefferson for President.

In 1901, J. P. Morgan incorporated the United States Steel Corp. in New Jersey, the first "billion-dollar" firm.

In 1948, Communists seized control of Czechoslovakia.

In 1962, American astronaut John Glenn was cheered by thousands in a march through Washington. Later, he gave a 17-minute address before Congress.

A thought for the day—Athenian dramatist Euripides: "Who neglects learning in his youth, loses the past and is dead for the future."

Merritt Beach fence is opposed

LINCOLN (UPI) — The State Supreme Court was urged today to reverse a ruling that permitted the Nebraska Highway Department to build a fence and restrict access to Merritt Beach on U.S. 73-75.

Merritt Brothers Sand and Gravel Co. appealed the Cass County District Court decision. In a high court brief, the company contends the highway department's fence restricts free access to its property, which was guaranteed through an easement strip it bought.

The court ruled the state could build the fence, but with gates to permit Merritt Brothers and beach goers entrance to the property.

It further ruled that the company was enjoined from interfering with the department workers making a survey to put up the fence.

The company maintains the state instituted the "spite case" because it failed to receive complete lock-out of the area when the access gate was allowed.

"The establishment of the fence by the state on the state's property line cannot do other than to restrict and destroy the easement," Merritt Brothers said.

It said the district court decree establishes a "restricted access" without compensation to the property owners.

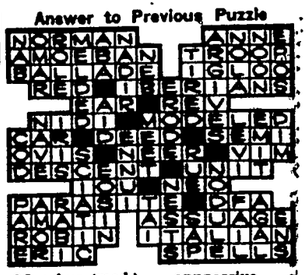

"It is obvious," the brief concluded, "that the plaintiff (roads department) does not have any right to establish a fence."

OPER ATION "OLD GLORY"

To the long and bloody list of America's battlefields ringing this world add Viet Nam In a war called controversial American boys are now serving their country. They are among strange people in a strange land. Their lot is not an easy one Unquestionably the morale-building support of their fellow countrymen is their inalienable right. There are those who protest this war in demonstrations which soften morale in Viet Nam Regardless of personal beliefs about the wisdom of American military activities in Viet Nam, no responsible American would do anything to undermine the spirit of those whose lives are placed in jeopardy with every tick of the clock

So that they may never question the moral support of the great majority of their countrymen, this newspaper believes that February should be set aside as a flag flying testimonial to turn the doors of our land red, white and blue in grateful appreciation. To achieve this end this newspaper lends maximum support. We offer U.S home flag sets at cost as a public service Get yours. Fly it. Write to the fellows and let them know that this community stands behind their efforts. Mail this page to an American in Viet Nam. Send the word over there that the Spirit of '76 will never die in the hearts of true Americans.
