

Clay is not dirty, he was belted low

HOUSTON (UPI) —Ernie Terrell former World Boxing Association champion, planned to check into a Washington, D.C. hospital today to undergo tests to determine if he suffered permanent damage to his left eye during his title fight with Cassius Clay.

Sam Solomon, Terrell's trainer, said Clay deliberately rubbed Terrell's face along the top strand of the ring ropes in the third round of Monday night's championship fight. Clay denied it.

"It was no accident," Solomon said. "It was definitely deliberate becausc it was in our corner. He grabbed him in a headlock and rubbed it along the rope."

An eye specialist told Terrell the eye was damaged, but was not sure if it was permanent, Solomon said.

"He said the damage was not by a glove, but by a rope," Solomon said. "It's a rope burn."

George Hamid Jr., Terrell's manager, asked the Texas Boxing Commission to review the fight film to see if Clay fouled deliberately and, if so, to take punitive action.

"I'm a clean fighter," Clay said. "I'm not dirty. He (Hamid) didn't say anything about Terrell hitting me low. He hit me low 20-30 times. He hit me behind the head 20-30 times and he hit me on the breaks 20-30 times."

Hamid did not deny this, but he said the outcome of the fight was still in doubt in the third round when Terrell was injured. He said he would not complain about anything Clay did after the seventh or eighth round when the champion was clearly in command.

One judge gave Terrell both the first two rounds and the referee gave Terrell the second round.

"Ernie had double vision from the third round on," Solomon said. "He still had it this (Tuesday) morning. That was the cause of him not jabbing. He couldn't see the opponent in front of him. He just kept his hands up there to protect himself from Clay's right hand. He (Terrell) was jabbing at the wrong figure.

"Under those circumstances. He fought an amazin' fight," Solomon said.

Clay said he hoped there was no permanent injury.

"I would have trouble living with myself if he was hurt permanently," Clay said.

North Carolina takes slim win

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Wtier

North Carolina's cavalier attitude toward lowly Virginia almost cost the Tar Hells their life in the Atlantic Coast Conference race.

The second-ranked Tar Heels had little to fear from Virginia's Cavaliers Tuesday night in Charlottesville-or so it seemed. Carolina had crushed Virginia 103-76 only two weeks earlier and was undefeated and No. 1 in the ACC while the Cavaliers were scraping the bottom.

Far from rolling over and playing dead, however, Virginia rose to its full height and nearly sent Carolina to an early grave before bowing 79-75 in the final three minutes of play.

A loss would have dumped the Tar Heels into a conference tie with arch-rival Duke and Carolina appeared to be heading in that direction after falling behind 40-39 at halftime and trailing by as many as six points midway in the second half.

But the Tar Heels finally shot into the lead at 75-73 with 2:55 remaining and wrapped up their seventh successive ACC triumph on three free throws by Lewis and another by Larry Miller. The two stars shared the scoring honors with 22 points apiece.

Seventh-ranked Kansas clarified the Big Eight Conference picture by demolishing Nebraska 84-58 in the only other game involving a team in the United Press International top 10 ratings. In another key ACC encounter, Clemson upset South Carolina for the second time this season 73-57.

Virginia, which suffered its eighth loss in nine conference starts and its 13th over-all against five victories, outplayed North Carolina under the backboards, grabbing 44 rebounds to 34 for the visitors.

Frisco falls short in bout with 76ers

By United Press International

They say the Philadelphia 76ers are holding a stacked deck with six aces.

The wheeler-dealers all hit in double figures Tuesday night as Philadelphia edged San Francisco 126-123 in a battle of divisional leaders.

Billy Cunningham scored 17 points in the first half and refused to stand pat. He produced an equal number of points after intermission for the game's hottest hand. Hal Greer tossed in 28, Wally Jones 24, Wilt Chamberlain 15, Lucious Jackson 13 and Chet Walker 12.

The Boston Celtics posted its 13th triumph in the last 14 games by beating the Cincinnati Royals 138-123, St. Louis Hawks whipped the Baltimore Bullets 109-96, the Los Angeles Lakers rallied to stop the New York Knicks 122-117 and the Detroit Pistons downed the Chicago Bulls 98-90 in other National Basketball Association games.

Philadelphia had to surpass a 41-point effort by San Francisco's Rick Barry to stay six games ahead of Boston in the Eastern Division race. The Warriors twice took the lead in the closing minutes of the game. But clutch baskets by Cunningham and Jones prevented any further cracks against the 76ers.

Nebraska City Senior High and Lourdes High cagers have another rugged weekend facing them Friday and Saturday with each facing a pair of opponents.

Nebraska City is home for both games, non-loop affairs against Falls City and Papillion.

Nebraska City Lourdes is at tough Pawnee City Friday night before returning home Saturday to meet Humboldt, an improved club. Both games are in Southeast Border play.

Nemaha Valley Conference tournament action which got underway Wednesday night will see the semifinals and finals played Friday and Saturday night at Johnson. Peru Prep is the top seeded team going unbeaten in five loop starts.

Syracuse will collide with another Omaha Catholic High school when Holy Name moves into Rocket town Friday night.

The Pioneers Saturday opponent Papillion is at one-time winner Ashland Friday night, while Falls City, the Friday foe, returns home to meet an up and down Crete team in Twin Rivers play Saturday.

Papillion beat the Pioneers in Ak-Sar-Ben tourney play in January and may be hard pressed to stop the Pioneers again on the home floor. Nebraska City forced the Monarchs into overtime before dropping the earlier game.

Nebraska City has a tough weekend slate the next several weeks, including two at home this weekend, away at Beatrice next Friday before returning home to host Lincoln Southeast on Saturday, then hosting Plattsmouth on the following Tuesday, with Pius X of Lincoln here the following Friday, February 24. District play begins at Pershing Auditorium in Lincoln on the 28th, with the Pioneers to host tall Hastings in the 6 p.m. first round game on that night, followed by the Bellevue vs Lincoln High tussle.

Lourdes with the two games this weekend, comes back Tuesday night to face Cook in a non-loop go at the Lourdes gymtorium before traveling back to meet a big tough one-time loser Council Bluffs St. Albert's the following Friday. Following that game the Knights move into Class C district play meeting Pawnee City on Feb. 21st.

Mizzou coach in worst year

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI)—Bob Vanatta's dream has turned into a nightmare.

His Missouri basketball team, a team he has dreamed of coaching since his boyhood days in Columbia, entered Tuesday night's game against Oklahoma with a 3-14 record after struggling through its worst season (3-21) in history a year ago.

But a likeable Vanatta insists he's as enthusiastic as he was when he came here five years ago and only discourages the rumors that say he's ready to throw in the towel.

"I'm not saying I haven't been down a time or two but I'm not discouraged," he says. "get discouraged and you've got no business coaching."

The rumors about Vanatta leaving are not as persistent as two years ago when some said the Mississippi State job was his if he wanted it.

"I'm not looking for a job," he says, emphasizing the word not. And, he adds what he's said all along. "I'll never leave Missouri for another coaching job."

Missouri, Vanatta says, is a heckuva university to work for.

"The emphasis certainly isn't on athletics here. I'm not subjectd to any pressures. Oh, I imagine there are those who disapprove of me but I don't hear about it.

"They don't threaten you with your job because you're losing and I think the record book bears me out," he says.

Vanatta is the 11th coach in Missouri's 59-year cage history but only the third in the last 40 years and Mizzou hasn't won a conference title outright since 1930 in the old Big Six.

Third rated Pirates jolt Weeping Water

Elmwood raised its season cage mark to 13-2 Tuesday night as the Pirates shot down Weeping Water 77-62 over the Class C Indians. The third rated Class D team led early, but had to fight off the visiting Indians three times before claiming the win. Using a 25 point fourth period, the Pirates finally pulled the game out of the fire.

Larry Ferguson and John Rosenow led the winners with 21 and 20 points, while John Miller had 11 and Mike Wohlers and Bill Fleischman had 10 each.

Dan Dehning had 22, Darrel McKenzie 21 and Terry Doyle 12 led the losers.

JOHNSON UPSETS RATED PAWNEE

Johnson upset Pawnee City 61-59 Friday night despite a heroic 22 point effort by the losers in the last period.

Pawnee City, cold from the start, was never in the game and trailed 13-8, 30-24 and 41-27 at the stops.

Chuck Hoffman and John Dahlgren had 17 and 11, and Whisler had 15 for the losers, while usual scoring leaders Havlicek and Bowman got only two and six.

For the winners Brian Noerer had 27, Lee Rohrs 14, and Burr 10.

For the Hamburg girls, Mary Vollersten had 24 in a losing effort.

Free throw wins Omaha Uni game

OMAHA (UPI)—Omaha University climaxed an uphill battle Tuesday night with a free throw by Leonard Todd in the last 10 seconds of play to beat Pittsburg State 45-43 in a game at the O.U. Fieldhouse.

The cold shooting Indians were down at the half 22 - 16, and didn't take the lead until eight minutes were left in the game on a tip-in by forward Dennis Browne.

A crowd of 2,800, largest home crowd in 10 years at O.U., sat in disbelief as the two teams consistently missed the basket.

Pittsburg tied it up at 43-43 with 2:10 to go and Omaha went into a delay game. Todd was fouled with 19 seconds remaining and sank a free throw giving the Indians a 44-43 lead.

The Gorillas had a chance for the winning basket with five seconds showing on the clock, but missed. Todd added a free throw with two seconds left for the final margin of victory.

It's distasteful to read about maltreatment charges against drill sergeants.

Drill sergeants are generally seasoned veterans and have no interest in hurting anyone. There is always that sour apple, but for the most part, the sergeants are tough veterans and they know that if they don't drill some sense into raw recruits, then those ill-trained soldiers are liable to get their heads blown off for a foolish mistake.

The best way to judge whether the drill sergeant is good, is to look at the ribbons on his uniform. If he lived through gunfire and hell, then podner, as a survivor, he makes a mighty fine teacher in my book.

We've been enjoying the movies at the Pioneer lately. "The Agony and Ecstasy" was a favorite because I haven't been to Europe in the past couple of weeks and besides the film told me more about Michelangelo in an hour and a half than I could have learned in two weeks over there.

Sid has "Follow Me Boys" starting Friday. It's a Walt Disney show which in my book makes it a good family show. Really, I think the Moms and Dads enjoy Disney more than the children.

Under chairmanship of Marv Eaton, the Nebraska City Lions club has one of the most unusual and yet satisfying projects in its glasses for the needy program.

Marv says the eye glasses — all "old" glasses from anyone who wants to give — are shipped to a firm in New Jersey which matches the prescription with the needs of men, women and children the world over.

This is the third year for the Lions and it has been the biggest year. "We shipped 2,100 pairs of glasses," he said.

So if you want to give in a different way, dig out those old glasses from the dresser drawer and mail them to Marv at Rowe Clothiers. The Lions club says "thanks" and they will do the rest.
