SA Hardenberger ends boot camp

SAN DIEGO (Special) — Seaman Apprentice Jeffrey L. Hardenberger, USN, 19, son of Mrs Bertha W. Hardenberger of 422 Fourth Ave., Nebraska City, Neb., has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

Greek tycoon has problems

NIDRION, Greece (UPI)—All was not perfect today for Aristotle and Jacqueline Onassis at their wedding island of Skorpios.

Oil derricks may soon surround the offshore paradise island where they were wed Sunday.

And a local family was refusing to sell the multimillionaire an adjoining island he was said to be yearning for.

The problems surfaced as the 62-year-old Greek tycoon and his bride, 39-year-old widow of President John F. Kennedy, honeymooned for the sixth day on their $3 million yacht Christina anchored alongside Skorpios.

In Athens, however, oil experts gathering for a world petroleum exploration conference said the western coast of Greece—the Ionian Sea around Skorpios—may be rich with the black gold transported by Onassis' fleet of tankers.

Oil man Mort Richardson told newsmen drilling concessions are expected to be granted soon. He predicted the derricks would soon appear on Skorpios' currently picturesque horizon

Part of the horizon is Madouri which, with Skorpios and Spati, form a trio of pine-covered islands in the Gulf of Levkas. And Onassis, who usually gets what he wants, has been unsuccessful in trying to buy Madouri.

Arab civilians clash with police

By United Press International

Arab civilians clashed with Israeli police today in predominantly Arab east Jerusalem during an Arab general business strike which brought the Israeli-occupied areas of Jordan to a standstill.

Witnesses said a number of east Jerusalem Arabs were injured in a scuffle near he Damascus Gate of the city.

The fight developed out of an angry exchange of words between Arab and Israeli civilians shortly after Defense Minister Moshe Dayan told a nationwide radio audience the Arabs and Jews should find a way to live in peace side by side.

Showers cooled some of the clashes near the Damascus Gate but security forces moved in to disperse a crowd of schoolgirls chanting "Palestine is Arab" and "We are all commandos."

A series of minor clashes along the Jordan River ceasefire line earlier wounded six persons and Israel put its security forces on the alert.

Logic needed, speaker urges

OMAHA (UPI) — Max Rafferty, California State School Superintendent, told the Nebraska State Education Association Friday teachers should use logic and reasoning in obtaining higher salaries and better working conditions.

Who suffers, Rafferty asked, when we teachers do anything that hinders instruction at individual schools?

He said, it is always the children that suffer when we insist on such unprofessional techniques as strikes and boycotts.

Rafferty, who confined his talk to educational matters, drew no protest from members of the NAACP.

Thursday, John Butler, president of the central branch of the Omaha NAACP said 100 telegrams had been sent to Omaha education and religious leaders expressing concern about Rafferty's scheduled speech.

Butler said the telegrams "represent fear at all levels of the black community regarding the possible negative effect of Mr. Rafferty's anti-progressive, anti-civil rights attitude on tolerance and understanding in his talk before the NSEA."

Dr. Frank C. McIntyre, a California teachers Association executive and native Nebraskan, told the convention that education must "purge its ranks on hard-core incompetents."

He said if teachers expect to negotiate for "professional salaries," they must rid themselves of the "two per cent that embarrass the majority."

Two per cent, McIntyre said, was the number of California teachers he felt should be "purged."

He gave no percentage figure on the number of Nebraska teachers he felt did not meet professional standards.

Consumer relations ass'n plans nearer

Information is expected to be received soon from the Omaha Better Business Bureau in regard to the newly formed consumer relations assocation of Nebraska, according to Chamber of Commerce Manager Ben Homan.

It is expected that the association will be operational in the very near future.

Randall Biart, director of the Nebraska Children's Home Society, laid it on the line the other night in Omaha.

Mr Biart says what many of us only think.

He sounds like a gruffy man, but he's really a mild individual with the biggest heart. Children just melt him down.

If you want a real eye opener, attend the annual meeting of the Children's Home this year. You won't get much of the dry, drab business. Mr Biart will tell you true stories about children and show you pictures taken as records for the home.

Then, you'll agree, Mr Biart is one of a kind.

Casualty rate at lowest in month

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American battle deaths in the Vietnam War dropped to a 14-month low of 100 during the week ending Oct. 19.

Iowa libraries to aid families

Fourteen public centers to serve over 63,000 families with the latest consumer information will open in selected libraries in a ten county area of southwest Iowa in November.

Books, pamphlets and bulletins furnishing up-to-date, reliable information on family housing, health, recreation, education and other money matters will be featured. Displays in the centers will change each month to emphasize a different concern of families as they try to keep current with new products and services available in their community. Service through the libraries includes the loaning of materials for further study at home.

This information service being offered for the first time, and only in southwest Iowa, is a cooperative effort of the public libraries and Iowa State University Extension. Cooperating libraries include those in Missouri Valley, Harlan, Audubon, Anita, Atlantic, Oakland, Council Bluffs, Malvern, Glenwood, Red Oak, Clarinda, Shenandoah, and Hamburg.

"Today's families are faced with so many important decisions involving money, they wish to know about sources of information that can help them choose wisely", says Mrs Enid Wortman, initiator and coordinator of the new service. Mrs Wortman is Consumer and Management Specialist in the Iowa State University Extension Area Office in Council Bluffs.

Emphasis in the library centers for the first three months will be:

November — Good Ideas for Home Dollars, About house planning. . .choosing. . .remodeling. . .furnishing. . .lighting. . .financing.

December — Super Stocking Stuffers, Big and little Christmas ideas. . .Gifts to make. . . gifts to choose.

January — Tools for Tax Reports, Records to keep. . .what and why, handy files. . .where and how, helpful guides. . .what and where.
