"FORD'S OUT FRONT ON NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS"

'Twas the night before Christmas—, the chidren were dreaming
Of a Ford in their future — smart, swanky and gleaming
And Mother and I gaily grinned, for we knew
That this wonderful dream was about to come true
Then out in the driveway wheels crunched on the snow
And the Ford dealer gave us a cheery "Hello"
He wasn't the Santa Claus type, —he appeared
Without any reindeer, a pack or a beard
But when he drove up in that elegant bus
You bet he was Santa, in person, to us
"Merry Christmas," he said, with a smile that was pleasant.
"The Ford in your future is now in your presence."
Well, Mother was eager and I was agog
So, we took the new Ford for a nice little jog
A jog, it was more like a journey on wings
What zest in that motor! What ease in those springs!
With Queen size in comfort, and King size in brakes,
We laughed, "Ford's out front with whatever it takes."
So, proud as a Princess and rich as a Lord,
start their Christmas Day Hunt
For presents, they'll find that a "FORD'S OUT FRONT"

The buck Ends here . . . .

By Ivan D. E. Beaumont

This will be a happy holiday season for many people.

The Pueblo crew is home and the astronauts are making staggering marks in the record books.

+ + + + +

To any man who served in the military service, the hijacking of an American super secret ship is almost unheard of. But it happened, the crew did not fight until death nor did it scuttle the ship.

They surrendered. There may be more to the story than we know. I'm just dying of curiosity to learn more about it.

+ + + + +

I was assigned to a battle station on a ship overseas for several days that required me to dog the hatch (that means lock the door to you landlubbers), sit tight and wait for further instructions on a sound powered telephone.

My battle station was in a security area (below the water line).

It didn't take long to figure out my battle assignment—scuttle ship.

My duty was to remove a certain number of bolts from a certain plate and flood the compartment. There were no instructions on how to survive.

+ + + + +

You know, after that I always felt the Navy didn't really need me as much as my enlistment required.

+ + + + +

We were all a nervous and shaky crew when one night we were loaded for bear with security gear and intercepted (I'll always remember the number) 19 submarine soundings.

That's the first time in my life never even got tired for 24 straight hours.

+ + + + +

The Apollo astronauts are making history like Buck Rogers of yesteryear.

It's a staggering thought to flip on the TV tube and see the picture of the earth transmitted by our boys in space.

It just brings us to the edge of high excitement. Astronauts I suppose, are like test pilots of the winged ships—they are likely to stretch the test a little more each time because they are experts in their fields and they have nerves of steel.

+ + + + +

Which means, that the U.S. spacemen are probably bursting with eagerness to fire rockets for the next planet, and the next and the next.

As the man said, Mister, you ain't seen nuthin' yet!

+ + + + +

A smiling youngster at a church Christmas program couldn't hold it any longer after his group had finished its part.

He blurted: "Hey, you know, Jesus has a birthday."

Well, gee whiz, Mom. It's the truth. . . .Mrs Chuck Bachinski smiled at her son.

+ + + + +

Lafe Williams, former KNCY news director, said he is director of public affairs and publications for Park College at Parkville, Mo., in a Christmas card.

Allen Holmes, the man who spirited the first reunion of Company B of the National Guard sends greetings. . . .and Maj. Earl "Buddy" Webb, who sent along a bright and attractive helicopter pilot's Christmas card, said, "Nebraska City people are still the greatest in the world. Happy Holidays."

+ + + + +

Received a card from a relative in Kansas and learned their son was alive and in a hospital with wounds sustained in combat in Vietnam.

The family has had its share.

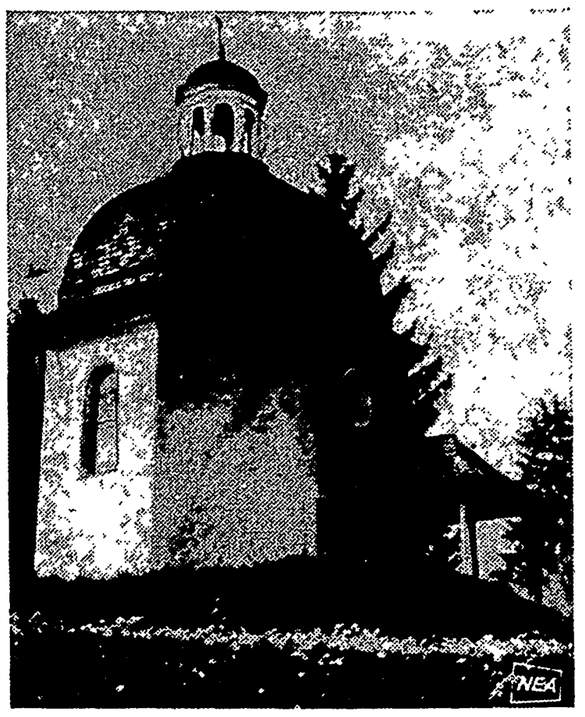

Three generations of the same family have been in wars. Uncle Henry survived the gases of WWI, his son, Stanton, returned from WWII; another son, Jay, was killed during the Korean war and now a grandson has been hurt in Vietnam.

+ + + + +

But the family is thankful. And so are we.

Christmastime has an additional meaning for our house. It means that Millie and I are starting our 19th year of marriage.

Merry Christmas.
From the House of Beaumonts

"SILENT NIGHT" MEMORIAL CHAPEL, above, in Oberndorf, Austria, is the scene of a month-long celebration observing the 150th anniversary of the famous Christmas carol. Built in 1937 on site of original St. Nicholas Church, chapel honors Josef Mohr, who wrote the lyrics, and Franz Gruber, who penned the music (for guitar) a few hours before midnight mass when the church organ broke down in 1818.

Sessions to be set for negotiations

The dates and topics for negotiations between the Nebraska City board of education and the teacher committee will be set at the board's January 6 meeting, according to Superintendent of Schools Sam Metcalf.

Darrell Allgood is JC president

Darrell Allgood will become acting president of the Nebraska City Jaycees in January.

President Larry Haack will step down from the post when he starts at a new job January 6 in Omaha. He told Jaycees Monday night that he would stay in close contact and attend as many meetings and functions as possible.

Allgood, is first vice-president of the Jaycees. A successor will be named to fill the first vice-president job.

The chapter also voted to donate money to the Nebraska City Rescue Squad. A number of the Jaycees are also members of the squad.

Reports on the annual Jaycee-Jaynes Christmas dinner party and the annual kiddies theatre party were given, along with a report on the Christmas lighting winners.

Garry Ailes presented John Schumacher with the Jaycees traveling Hole-In-One golf trophy. Mr Schumacher carded his ace on hole one on October 31. It was the first ace recorded here since Jack Chadwick turned the trick on May 19, 1965, just two weeks after Floyd Ward of Riverton hit his ace.

Mr Schumacher told Jaycees it was his third hole-in-one. The other two he said were at the Broadmoor Course in Colorado Springs and at Happy Hollow, Omaha.

Other past winners of the trophy were Jay Fenstermacher, May 2, 1961; Terry Meyer, August 14, 1961; John Freeman, May 13, 1962; Steve Zimmers, August 7, 1962; and Ron Eiserman, August 6, 1963, who held it for two years, finally giving it to Lloyd Ward, who was also to keep it just two weeks.

The collision occurred after one of the cars began sliding on ice.
