The Buck Ends Here

By IVAN D.E BEAUMONT

Mrs Gladys (Vilda) Nincehelser, 604½ South Tenth Street, called the other day and said that I may have a taste for Czech foods, but sure don't have any talent for spelling them

We took that with a grain of poppy seed and wondered if a prune kolache with whipping cream might serve as a peace offering.

The Buck Boo-booed last week·

I guess we had the second one "jelita" spelled right

"Do you know what that is?" we asked Mrs Nincehelser

"Oh, yes, that's the bloody one," she replied (Jelita is a blood and barley sausage).

The latest and tastiest item we've had in the Czech village are cherry kolaches topped with whipping cream I tossed out all courtesy and stood at the dessert table at a wedding reception and worked on that one tray of pastries

I never did learn who was the cook of the specialty, but several times I caught a gleam in the eye of an aging "babitschka" (grandmother) as I reached for another kolache

I read the other day that Pat Sullivan of Auburn is cutting notches in the record books and is about to topple the 71 touchdown mark established by Glenn Davis, the legendary Army back.

Davis played for Army and teamed with another man to make Army's football team about the hottest sporting event in the nation. That other fellow's name is Blanchard

I don't know where Davis is today, but I read some time back about "Doc" Blanchard who had been flying combat missions in Vietnam.

A movie was made about the two men and their adventures at West Point. Seems to me they starred in their own film

Howard Silber. Omaha World-Herald newsman, said at a Press Club function the other night in Omaha that the new B1 bomber wanted by SAC is really something

Silber is a specialist in SAC news reporting and shared his impression of the new planned bomber with Ray Depa, Channel 6 TV newsman and myself (and the wifeys, of course) at a whingdig in Omaha

Depa says Omaha's Mayor Leahy is another Jimmy Walker. The mayor reads the funnies on TV (on a different channel)

And the mayor doesn't surprise anyone when he shows up at a news conference shortly before Easter wearing a bunny outfit. He keeps newsmen on their toes and they like him "He's a real man," Depa says

+ + +

Leahy promotes his town He has turned down Husker tickets to attend UNO games to bolster local football attendance and did the opening ceremony for a Halloween spook house.

Depa said about the most exciting night for the mayor occurred last winter when he ran from his home in his pajamas to rescue two children trapped on the second floor of a house in flames

The mayor flagged a motorist for help and together the men stood beneath the windows of the home and "caught" the two children m their arms as they leaped to safety

We laid on the sales talk pretty heavy to the TV people on the Centennial Arbor Day program and invited them to come to Nebraska City to see where "it all started"

Thanksgiving Dinner

The cook at our house has been asking the family for suggestions for the Thanksgiving menu

We will be staying at home They're all saying it's my fault because of the football game on TV

There was a time when I would argue the point, but getting the message across is sometimes about as successful as the Paris peace talks

Anyway, I think we are looking forward to a safe holiday away from the busy highways

(Just because I bought 100 pounds of shelled popcorn they think I really mean to stay home and watch TV)

The meat hasn't been decided When Clarissa was a "little bitty girl" she disliked meat loaf So, we renamed it "Buffalo" and broke that little habit

So, "Buffalo" is popular, fried chicken is always a favorite and so is swiss steak We may shoot the works and stuff a turkey

Denise will be home, so that means "real" potatoes and gravy (Understand the college "hot runch" is about the same as other schools)

Jeannea is one of the easiest to please She likes most everything and seldom is "picky" over meals She's getting to be a little lady now and has some concern about weight.

When Millie asked Keaton what he wanted for Thanksgiving dinner he said, "everything"

Good luck, Don Carlile

Our friend, Don Carlile, will be leaving his job soon with special services at Peru State to accept a position at Northwest Missouri State at Maryville, Missouri

Don said his leaving Peru came with a great deal of thought He has been associated with the college for about 15 years. His work includes keeping the News-Press and other papers informed on what's going on at Peru State

He's done a fine job and we will miss his dedication We've always been able to count on Don and his staff to give us a call or send a picture and story on something about students from this area

So, good luck, Don We'll stop and see you on your new job after you get situated

Governors rally behind President

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

FRENCH LICK, Ind (AP) — Republican governors are rallying behind President Nixon, preaching GOP unity in preparation for a 1972 campaign in which they hope to increase their number and their political clout

"We must have a strong voice in how the national campaign is run," Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan said Friday after he was elected chairman of the Republican Governors Association.

He said the counsel and campaign efforts of Republican governors, in charge in but 20 of 50 states, "could provide one of the greatest single assests for the re-election of President Nixon .

"There is more unity among Republican governors, and more support for President Nixon, than ever before," said Milliken, who had been critical of the tone and tactics of the GOP campaign in 1970.

"My feeling is that the administration is going with a positive and affirmative program in 1972," Milliken said.

Gov Linwood Holton of Virginia, elected conference vice chairman, agreed. He said there will be no trace of exclusionary Southern strategy in the 1972 GOP campaign.

Milliken said the party must move vigorously over the next year to broaden its support

There was no more than a murmur of dissent during the three-day conference in this southern Indiana spa. Gov. Francis W. Sargent of Massachusetts did complain that the GOP is doing poorly in attracting new voters.

"The Republican party's efforts must be broadcast, not buried in highly charged, highly inflammatory rhetoric," he said, criticizing publications put out by the Republican national committee.

Vice President Spiro T Agnew, who had once stirred similar complaints from liberal GOP governors, told the GOP governors everybody except Nixon is expandable in the next election, "and that includes me."

Clark reelected to board of PCA

Everett Clark of Unadilla and Denzel Harrison of York were elected Wednesday to three-year terms on the board of directors of the Lincoln Production Credit Association The election took place during the association's annual stockholders' meeting

James C Heiser, Vice President of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Omaha advised the stockholders, "Because of larger amounts of credit involved in the future, it will be even more important in the extention of credit to have good records coupled with a good loan history"

Dwayne Dietze, General Manager of the Association, stated to the 500 stockholders present, "The average size loan in the Association has increased in the past year from $28,000 in 1970 to $38,000 in 1971

Donald "Red" Blanchard kept the group roaring with laughter as he spiced his subject "Should a Wife Go Along on a Honeymoon?," with rapid fire story telling

Mr Clark, PCA President, Unadilla, served as chairman of the annual meeting
