WASHINGTON (AP) — A birthday cake with green shammrocks and an evening of country music at the White House will mark the celebration of First Lady Pat Nixon's 61st birthday today

Private Mehrer calls home

OMAHA, Neb (AP)—A phone call has signalled the end more than four years of worrying and wondering for an Omaha couple, Mr and Mrs Erhardt Mehrer

The call Friday was from their son, Pfc Gustav Mehrer, who was calling from Clark Air Force Base in the Phillipines Mehrer, 23, had just been released from a prisoner of war camp in Hanoi where he had been held since being captured on Christmas day in 1968

Gustav said as soon as he undergoes a medical examination at Clark AFB Hospital, he will be sent to Fitzsimons Army Hospital in Denver and from there he will return home

Mrs Mehrer said Gustav told her he wants to go to school when he returns and that he also plans to visit Austria, his native land

The family moved to Nebraska when he was 11 months old, living in Grand Island before moving to Omaha in 1959.

The Mehrers plan to travel to Denver to await their son's arrival

The term precious stones actually applies only to diamonds, rubies, sapphires and emeralds — all other stones are semiprecious, The World Almanac says Precious gems are minerals brought to perfection by the lapidary's art of cutting, polishing and engraving. The pearl, often a gem of great value, is not a precious stone.

So long friend, Shorty Bell

We miss our friend, Forrest "Shorty" Bell who died last week at St Mary's hospital after a brief illness

Shorty was well known in the community and in recent years he was well known as the smiling man who put the parking tickets on the windshield of your car or truck

"Some people get pretty mad when you give them a ticket for overtime parking," Shorty told me one day. "But I don't mind I like to talk to people."

He also served as bailiff in Otoe county district court His assignment was sort of a sergeant-at-arms over the jury and any other duty handed him by the district judge.

We thanked him many times for calling us to the courthouse at nights when the jury had reached a decision and was ready to announce it to the judge and parties involved

Shorty's friendly attitude is missed and we miss him as a friend

Bill Jenkins' Junior High bandsmen put on a good show the other night, but there was one young man who wiggled and frowned as he pounded the drums

Jeff Cullin, son of Mr and Mrs Tom Cullin, 2019 First Corso, tapped his toe along with the beat of the music and when he sat down at a set of drums, he really got with the wiggling and bouncing

Jeff did a fine job He made a boo-boo once and even if the rest of us didn't notice it, he let everyone know he goofed by shaking his head, frowning and continued on pounding the drums.

Jeff practices on his drums in the basement of the Cullin home His dad says a lot of noise comes from the basement when Jeff starts whacking away with the drum sticks

+ + + + +

And then a few days later, we saw Jeff in action again at a wrestling match winning in a decision over his Auburn opponent

We saw a young man who showed everyone lots of energy at the drums and he displayed the same energy and tossed in some muscle on the wrestling mat

Jeff has been recognized for his energy and ability. He holds the Ed Harshbarger Memorial trophy for baseball And if you've ever seen him in action as a catcher, you've seen an active youngster

A long-haired professional football player was getting his hair cut at Tom's Barber shop

"Gee," said Tom, "I'll bet no one would recognize you if I cut all your hair off!" (snicker, snicker).

"You're probably right," the hairy-chested tackle answered, "and I'll bet you no one would recognize you either."

The minister was on the golf course when he heard a fellow golfer let loose with a string of profanity that would have curled hair

"I have often noticed," remarked Rev Vic, "that the best golfers are not addicted to the use of foul language ".

"Of course not," Garry shouted from the sand trap "What in ——— do they have to swear about?"

Philosopher Vern Livingston sez·

"There's no fool like an old fool After all — you can't beat experience "

And then there was the conversation in the courthouse·

Judge "You say it was an accident that you shot your wife?"

Defendant "That's right, your honor. She stepped in front of my mother-in-law just as I was about to pull the trigger."

Meanwhile, Up on the North 40

"K-e-e-r-r-a-c-k! Wham! Bam! B-o-o-i-n-g!"

Ivan, what on earth is going on in there?" the mother bear demands

The sounds are coming from No 1 son's bedroom where the king, master and karate expert is holding his own against Billy Jack and Kung Fu, alias No 1 son and his best friend Steve Wusk

"Ah! Chop! Zip! Zap! Y-i-k-e-s!"

Zoing go the pillows swish go the covers splat goes a bare hand on you-known-where and two boys are awakened for breakfast.

+ + + + +

"Ohhhhhhh, get out of here. Let us sleep "

Comes the Billy Jack lingo... "you know mister, I'm going to put my right foot right there (points to youngster's chin and cheek) and there's not a thing you can do about it "

"Ka-pow!" (Demonstration purposes only that's a pretty high kick).

Then comes the attack to the other side of the bed where the other hotshot is flopped out. .you know, the guy who wants to stay up and watch television until late?

+ + + + +

Kung Fu is in his stance and calls his challenge

"Uhhhhhh. . .ah. . .uh . .ah ack!" Without warning the hands move again (a swat on you-know-where) and the swift feet of Kung Fu go to the air

(This is really getting me down in the morning)

The boys are rubbing their eyes now and realizing that it's time to get up (thank heavens) and challenge some of those fruity breakfast dishes.

The master speaks·

"Grasshopper, it is good for you to get up to greet the morning sun and absorb the strength of its rays Remember it is the early bird that gets the worm."

(No comment).

Later, on the way to school the boys are talking it over

"Y-u-k!"

"What's the matter?" No. 1 son asks?

"Oh we. . .who wants worms for breakfast!" Steve replies

Soybeans in new sandwich

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)— That hamburger you're eating might not be all hamburger.

At King's Food Hosts restaurants in Des Moines, they've invented what could be called a hybrid burger—because it contains soybeans in addition to meat

King's calls it the Big King Mixed with the hamburger is a protein additive made from soybeans

The Big King was invented to cut down costs

And how has the public reacted?

Response has been excellent, say King's employes The Big King is promoted by stand-up cards at each table The cards say the sandwich contains "TVP" but do not say what that is

The Big King is sold in addition to other sandwiches and is to be introduced in King's restaurants throughout Iowa in the next two months

Although the new burger was test marketed at individual restaurants in Minnesota and Nebraska, Des Moines is the first full market in the country to get the burger, said Janis Baker, a King's spokesman

Deferred guilty plan offered

LINCOLN, Neb (AP) — Persons would be able to avoid having a conviction placed on their record through a "deferred guilty plea procedure" proposed Friday at a meeting of the state Crime Association

Atty Gen Clarence A H Meyer, chairman of the commission, suggested that under the plan, a defendant would sign a guilty plea, waiving his right to a speedy trial The court would then place him in a rehabilitative program

Meyer said when the person completed the program the judge would refuse to accept his guilty plea and charges would be dismissed

The plan would probably be used in felony cases such as a "guy who has family problems and embezzles three or four hundred and gets caught," Meyer said

Meat boycott warning issued

OMAHA, Neb (AP)—An authority on nutrition has issued a warning to housewives who may be considering a boycott of meat to protest increased prices

Dr Jo Ann Brasel, chief of the Division of Growth and Development, Institute of Human Nutrition, Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York City, said Friday that red meat is a good source of both protein and iron and if you cut out red meat, you should compensate for it in other foods

She said fish, eggs and cheese can be used as protein sources Also, she said, "Iron has been added to many cereals Green vegetables, and eggs are other foods which supply iron "

Dr Brasel said many Americans lack knowledge about nutrition and said food advertising is not helping

"There is only one group in the U.S whose food products are sold on the basis of nutritional value," she said "It's the dogs and cats "

She urged American mothers to pay particular attention to snack foods because some of them provide little nutritional value

Dr Brasel was in Omaha to speak at a meeting sponsored by the American Academy of Pediatrics
