The Optimist club and NC Pioneer Booster athletic banquet will be held soon, but the organizers are having a hard time trying to pin down an open date and a speaker.

"I think we should just set a date each year and always have that time," Jim Brockhaus, chairman for the Optimist club said

This year the group tentatively scheduled the banquet for April 15, which is Palm Sunday, the Rev John Green reminded at the meeting the other day

The speaker has not been engaged because of the time conflict, Mr Brockhaus reported

Up on the North 40

Mr and Mrs Jerry Hoffman are going to build a new home on North Tenth Street near the Guy Miller residence.

Jerry is employed at Farmers Bank in Nebraska City

I told him he would have to check with Mayor Louie Genoa about a building permit because Joy Thornhill, the City inspector, has no authority up on the hill

I don't think he believed me

Oh, well, Chamber Manager Don McBride will follow through and get him seigned up and squared away

The other day neighbor Fred Baker poured a concrete slab with the help of his son, Jack, for his camper rig on the back of the lot.

It was a day when the concrete didn't "set" as rapidly as it usually does and the next time Fred took a look at the concrete project, an animal had taken a short cut . across the concrete

We looked over the damage and surmised that the tracks were made by a cow, calf or a deer. We settled on a dog and figured the owner would know it soon enough because the animal picked up so much of the concrete in his paws that he was sure to track it in a home

Meanwhile, Fred and son were thankful the concrete hadn't hardened and went back with their trowels and were able to fill in the holes.

My first thought was the Black Panther of Minersville had invaded the area especially since Henry Schemmel had moved to town

I was assured that wasn't true because that cat would be looking for something softer than concrete

Wayne Brown the businessman

Wayne Brown of Gambles is observing 20 years of business in Nebraska City and he said if he had it to do all over again, he'd do the same

Mr Brown said he owes his business success to the town as a whole — "it's a good shopping town "

The WWII Army Air Corps captain said he never thought his business would grow as it has, but he's sure pleased There have been times when his business future was in doubt

"I remember when we had those school battles. I was told by many people that my business would flop because I took such an interest in the school fight It did just the opposite. I really think those years were the start of the growing success of the business "

Mr Brown followed through with his taxpayer interest in the school program by later being elected to the board for a six-year term and serving as president of the Board of Education.

Congratulations to Wayne and his fine family It's people like you who make the town go'

Marie Kuessel writes from Batesville, Ark , that she is enjoying her visit and sent along a note from the Batesville Guard

The newspaper published some of the beliefs of the late Winthrop Rockefeller, former governor or Arkansas He was a candidate for the office when he listed beliefs which included truth justice, the best education for the young, equal opportunity, law enforcement and opposition to organized gambling

"I believe it was Winthrop Rockefeller who put Arkansas on the map," she writes "It is too bad he was governor for just two terms "

Like it or not, the tornado season is arriving May, June and July are the most prevalent, but mid-April planning is wise

The Weather Service says tornadoes are born when warm air is trapped near the ground by cold air above it The cold air sinks, the warm air rises and air near the ground rushes in to replace the rising warm air

When the air mass begins to swirl, you have a tornado

We are in what is called "Tornado Alley," a swath of land that includes, Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Kansas ,The state had 30 tornadoes last year There were no deaths in any of the four states

Twenty-seven people died in tornadoes in 1972 The longterm annual average is over 100 and there were 156 deaths in 1971

Tornadoes may have internal winds of up to 300 miles per hour, the capability of a sudden drop in air pressure than can cause buildings to explode as if bombed and upward winds that lift houses, trailers or automobiles hundreds of yards

THE WORDS OF CHRIST
BY DAVID POLING

"And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites, for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by men. Truly I say to you, they have their reward . Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask Pray like this Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name "

Matthew 6

Wilfred Grenfell, that amazing Christian doctor who spent so much of his life helping the poor in Labrador, wrote of his view concerning prayer It touches on this topic from Matthew, where Jesus is teaching his followers how to pray It is worth repeating for every generation Said Grenfell

"Long prayers have not now become a habit with me The Master himself at time prayed long hours, and there are special occasions, perhaps, when we all can feebly imitate him there But I don't for a moment believe now that we are to be heard one whit more for our much speaking

"I have attended live, helpful prayer meetings But if I'm tempted to gossip, or scold, or be vain or selfish, or to waste time and talent, or to set a poor example what is the use of waiting for church time or prayer meeting? A brief, God help me' at the time is more reasonable Jesus gave his disciples the best advice possible when they asked him the wording he gave was exceedingly brief "

Wayne Ziebarth to run for Congress

KEARNEY, Neb (AP)— Wayne Ziebarth, Wilcox farmer and former state senator, will seek the Democratic nomination for Congress from the 3rd District in 1974

Ziebarth, who finished behind State Sen Terry Caprenter and Wallace Peterson in last year's race for the Democratic senatorial nomination, said in Kearney Friday, "In order to unseat a politically-entrenched represenative such as the third District congressmen it will take early campaigning, good organization, a well-financed campaign and a favorable political atmosphere in 1974 "
