Russian girl bests Sheila

INNSBRUCK (AP) — Sheila Young failed in her bid to become the winningest American athlete in the history of the Winter Olympics when she finished third to Russia's Tatiana Averina in the women's 1,000-meter speed skating race today

Miss Young, the multi-talented athlete from Detroit, earned her third medal by swirling around the slick course in 1 minute 29 14 seconds But it wasn't enough

Miss Averina, bronze medalist in the earlier 500 and 1,500-meter races, won the 1,000-meter event in Olympic record time of 1 minute 28.43 seconds, surpassing the mark of 1 31.40, set by Monika Holzner of West Germany in 1972

Leah Poulos of Northbrook, Ill , who failed to crash the medal ceremony in two earlier events here, finished second in 1 28 57 to earn the silver medal

The 25-year-old Miss Young had won the 500-meter speed skating race Friday in Olympic record time after striking silver Thursday in the 1,500-meter event

The third-place finish ended Miss Young's Olympic career, which still rates near the top of all American competitors in the 48-year history of these prestigious Games

Only two Americans, speed skaters John Shea and Irving Jaffee in the 1932 Games, ever have won twice at one Winter Olympics

Seven athletes have won three gold medals in the same Winter Olympics, including Frenchman Jean-Claude Killy in Alpine skiing in 1968, Galina Kulakova of the Soviet Union in Nordic skiing in 1972 and Dutchman Ard Schenk in speed skating in 1972

Miss Young, world cycling champion in 1973, still ranks as one of the sports world's most versatile athletes

The Homemakers School

Many of the folks around here have been working with Nebraska City businesses to bring the Homemakers School to town again.

The program will be February 12 at 1:30 p.m at the Pioneer Theater.

One caller wanted to know if she needed a reservation. No, but we suggest coming early to assure yourself of a good seat (Last year about 700 people attended)

Another caller wanted to know about buying an advance ticket. Well, mercy, no. It's all free and there are lots of gifts on top of the free show, compliments of the News-Press and many businesses

Rick Baldwin, our advertising manager, will be the master of ceremonies, but he says the real work on the stage will be by two graduate home economists Denise Ulrich and Joyce Sierfering. Also helping Rick with the organization of the program are his sales staff, Susan Whitmarsh and Dee Driever, the newest member of the ad department.

There are five other helpers you'll see at the Pioneer They are members of the Women's Fellowship of the Bethel United Church of Christ.

They are Mrs Merl (Victoria) Leeper, Mrs James (Sharon) Moyer, Mrs Larry (Janice) Rains, Mrs James (Sharon) Herzog and Mrs Melvin (Evelyn) Giittinger

The winter concert

We failed to mention one interesting feature about the Bicentennial band music at the winter concert the other night

The song was made up of eight pieces and Director Gary DeBolt made a point to musically explain the different sections That was good because it helped the audience follow the program

What we forgot to mention was the length of the song — 20 minutes, according to Aldean Grundman, president of the Music Boosters

That's a whole lot of music and hard work by the youngsters in the band The audience responded with applause, which is still the best pay yet on stage

Wedding bells

"How's it going, Bill?" I asked the man at Dawson Oil and Transport

"Just fine, keeping busy," he said.

"How many do you have in college now?" I asked

"Two "

"Wow that must be sumpthin' "

"Yup," Bill said, "and it'll cost more soon Becci's getting married "

"Oh oh....ole' dad is going to shell out for that."

"Yes....heh....heh....but it shouldn't be too expensive," saith the man with-no-experience.

"Hold on thar hoss," I stopped him "What's this stuff about low cost weddings?"

"Well .it's just not going to be expensive,"

"I don't want to pry ole' Billy-Boy but have you got any idea of what is meant by A LOW COST WEDDING?" I challenged

"Well ummmmmuh .not really "

"Ah hah ! Just as I thought Admit it, silver-haired-daddy, you don't know from nuthin' about weddings."

Well, in his usual friendly way, Bill admitted that he really didn't know what the cost would be but knowing HIS daughter, he wasn't too concerned

I didn't want to laugh and hurt his feelings He's really a pretty good guy, but when it comes to weddings .he's just got to consult the pro

"Now listen, friend Bill There's a cute little girl at the University who probably called upon you to repair her dollies and other toys and now she's grown and she is calling on you to do just .one more thing

"You understand, friend Bill," I assured, "I'm not trying to talk you into anything. .but remember that miserable hot summer when that little cutie pumped gas and diesel fuel at Dawson Oil? . Huh? ...Huh? Huh?"

"You're on the wrong track," he snorted (I could tell he was about to become honest because grandmother was in the other room and she perked as the conversation peaked)

"I told Becci if she'd let her mother help more with the plans we'd take care of things."

"Oh .just like that the ole' dictator bends a little now, huh?" I said

"No, not anything like that I just don't think it will be costly " Woe is Bill.

"Would you like some advice from an expert?" I asked.

"No, not really," he said

"Well, I'll give it to you anyway You'll appreciate it later Besides it's the same advice I gave Bill Carroll and he lived through it "

"Okay, I'll listen ..but I think you ought to put those two tires on the front of your Ranchero " (Once a salesman, always a salesman.)

"Well, Bill, ole' friend. there will be times of frustration, times of worry, and a grand time of satisfaction. And, when you see your little girl try on the wedding dress at a fitting, you'll get a lump in your throat that'll choke you for the next several weeks.

"When that little cutie comes up to you and says. 'D-a-d-d-y' .she will be asking for something for that special day that has more meaning than all of your Firestone and General tires combined.

"I guess I know that," he admitted. "It's just ..different "

"Sure it is....and all fathers are alike....we're all suckers for those little girls. They've been known to melt some mighty tough fathers.

"Well, gotta go. Good luck to you, dad, in the coming weeks "

"Thanks, Ivan....Hey! Hey! Come back! You never did tell me how it's going to cost!"

Mrs Shonka

DAVID CITY, Neb. (AP)— District Court Judge Howard V Kanouff sentenced Mrs Elder Perrie Calder Shonka, 34, of Rising City to 10 years in prison Friday in the shooting death of her husband.

Mrs. Shonka pleaded guilty to a second degree murder charge in the slaying last Nov. 1 of her husband Joseph, 63.

Ancient Suburbia

Suburban living is not a modern development Archaeologists in Italy have uncovered Oplonti, a community about 10 miles north of ancient Pompeii that was strictly residential, without market places or forums. The residents are believed to have been wealthy. Pompeilans and Roman patricians on vacation. Eruptions from Vesuvius in 19 A.D buried this Roman version of affluent suburbia

Ripley sets new record

INGLEWOOD, Calif (AP) — Muscular Dan Ripley easily cleared 18 feet 2¼ inches on his first attempt Friday night to set a world amateur indoor pole vault record before a full house in the 17th Los Angeles Times Indoor Games track meet

Ripley had to wait until Canada's Bruce Simpson missed three attempts at that height before he could claim a victory as a crowd of 15,156 looked on at the Forum

The 22-year-old graduate of San Jose State missed his first jump of the night at 16-6, but then had no more misses as he wiped out his own amateur mark of 18-1¼ which he set just four weeks ago at College Park, Md

The 6-foot, 178-pounder, who was second in the NCAA championships last year, was four inches shy of the best pole vault on record indoors, an 18-5 by Steve Smith of the International Track Association last year

Ripley, who decided against any further height, was one of the few Americans to shine in this meet which featured a number of foreign victors

Francie Larrieu defeated Canada's Thelma Wright in the women's 1500 with a 4 16.5 clocking

Ewald Bonzet of South Africa captured the two mile in 8 35,2 after Kenya's Josh Kimeto had set a blistering pace for the first mile, running 4 10.

Things opened when France's high hurdler Guy Drut celebrated his 26th birthday with an easy victory in the 60-yard high hurdles.
